Music Is About Creativity, Communication and Cooperation

About our Tutors
Masada has a wide range of tutors who specialise in particular instruments. Tutors are able to meet students’ individual needs, interests and abilities. There are endless opportunities created and support provided for Curricular Music classes, particularly Elective Music students.

Co-curricular Music Ensembles
Performing in ensembles is the best way to maximise the benefits of learning music. All students enrolled in Private Music Tuition are encouraged to participate in the Co-Curricular Music Ensembles appropriate to their instrument or voice.

For more information please refer to the respective Junior and Senior School Co-Curricular forms. There are ensembles open to all students, while Extension ensembles require audition and participation in Core ensembles.

Your Commitment
Each student is expected to enroll with a commitment to study for an entire school year. It is only after a year of learning that the student can accurately gauge their progress. It generally takes approximately one full year for a student to fully appreciate the rewards of learning and performing music in their chosen instrument. Tutors and parents should keep in regular contact to monitor each student’s progress and interest.

Should it become necessary to discontinue before the end of the year, a minimum of 9 weeks term time must be given in writing. This would be done in consultation between Parents, Tutor and Music Coordinator.

Fees
The 2017 cost for Private Music Tuition is $40.00 per 30 minute lesson.

There are shared lesson options and longer duration. Please enquire or refer to the school website for more details on these prices.

Tuition fees are billed to your School Account at the beginning of each semester. The guaranteed number of lessons is sixteen (16) per semester.

Attendance
Music lessons are normally scheduled within school hours, by arrangement with the Tutor. Students should be punctual and bring their music instrument, school diary and any other equipment necessary. Junior school students will be collected from their classroom.
